

High School Guardian Program

This update to the program will be instituted beginning with applications in the summer-fall of 2024 for the Spring 2025 flight season and will remain active for the foreseeable future.

What is the HFC High School Guardian Program?

This program is designed for upper-level high school students to serve as Guardians on an Honor Flight with Honor Flight Columbus. HFC is a nonprofit organization that flies our nation's Senior Veterans to Washington DC to see their memorials paid for by grateful Americans. Guardians spend the day with Veterans connecting with them, listening to stories, and caring for basic needs. It is an incredible opportunity to show Veterans how grateful this country is for their service and give them the Welcome Home that so many of them never received. High School Students accepted into this program will complete 5 mandatory training sessions and serve as Guardians on a Flight Day. There is no financial cost for students accepted into this program. Flight costs are covered by HFC for all program participants.

Why should I participate in this program?

This program provides an opportunity for the next generation to honor, share, and celebrate our nation's Veterans. Additionally, students gain experience in application and interview processes, marketable skills associated with people, logistics, and service, as well as networking opportunities. Students will learn that the stories of these Veterans become our stories, once they share them with us. Their participation in this unique and relational opportunity will offer a once and a lifetime perspective of our nation's Veterans.

What is the application process?

Once HFC has received all application materials, applicants will receive an email with directions for next steps in the process. Applicants selected for the next round will be interviewed virtually by the High School Guardian Program Coordinator and/or the Director of Outreach. Finally, students will receive notice if they have been selected to take part in the program and receive a program contract to be filled out and returned. This contract is similar to an internship contract which outlines all expectations of program participants and includes all training session dates. All applications will be considered after the deadline.
